Craig Pratt nominated as a finalist for Queensland Law Society Solicitor of the Year (Small Firm)

Date: Monday July 13, 2026

Some lawyers build successful careers. Others quietly build trust, respect and influence across an entire profession. For more than 20 years, Craig Pratt has done exactly that.

Craig is one of Queensland's leading criminal and administrative lawyers, recognised for his work in coronial inquests, commissions of inquiry, professional discipline and complex criminal matters. He is an Accredited Specialist in Criminal Law and has contributed extensively to the profession through Queensland Law Society committees and specialist accreditation programs.

What those achievements don't capture is the person behind them: thoughtful, measured, relentlessly prepared and deeply committed to his clients and colleagues.

His nomination as a finalist for Queensland Law Society Solicitor of the Year (Small Firm) is a fitting recognition of a remarkable career and a reflection of the person he genuinely is.

Congratulations Craig. Very well deserved.
